AccuPoint Needles Series

Precision
Matters!

All AccuPoint Needles are made of
T300 Stainless Steel

Whether in a flat or round, both styles are designed to work efficiently so that each needle in the configuration will enter the skin at precisely the same time, with the appropriate amount of pigment on each individual needle.

Bonding the needles into position helps to prevent them from wandering and becoming distorted. AccuPoint Series are the only needles engineered to deliver less injury to the procedure area. This allows the skin to heal faster, locking in the color and prevent fading.
